BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Eleven persons died violently in Arkansas during the week that ended at midnight Sunday, with traffic accidents accounting for seven of the fatalities.

There were two fatal shootings, one drowning and one fire death. L. C. McClain, 71, of Shirley drowned in the Little Red River near his home town yesterday.

Sheriff Ammon Ward said McClain left the home of a daughter, Mrs. Ezra Murray of Shirley, and a search was started for him after he failed to return for several hours.

His body was found in the river about one-half mile from Mrs. Murray's house.

Sam Hicks, 76, Negro, of Poplar Grove, was injured fatally when an automobile struck him as he walked along state Highway 20 on the outskirts of Poplar Grove yesterday. He died last night at a Helena hospital.

Police identified the driver of the car as John Wesley Hopper, 44, of Cordova, Tenn.

Homer Johnson, 20, Negro, of Pisco, was killed Saturday when his car and another automobile collided on state Highway 17 about four miles north of Brinkley. Clarence Mead, 30, Negro, of De S Arc, the other driver, was injured.

Virginia Calls Legislature to Special Meet

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Virginia's Legislature will meet in extraordinary session Wednesday to seek new defenses for the state in its battle against integration in the public schools.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. called the special session Sunday night—six days after the court had dealt a knockout blow to "massive resistance" laws enacted in 1950.

Without these laws, under which nine schools have been closed, the state is powerless to prevent or delay integration where it is ordered by federal judges. In one school in Arlington, it has been ordered by federal judges, in one school in Arlington, it has been ordered for no later than Feb. 2.

Almond indicated he will offer the Assembly only a stopgap program designed to meet the most immediate problems when he addresses the State Senate and the House of Delegates in joint session Wednesday noon.

The governor said he still plans to appoint a committee of legislators to formulate a long range anti-integration program.

Almond declined any hint of specific measures he would recommend. He said "it would serve no useful purpose" to disclose whether he will offer a plan aimed at staying off integration in Arlington and in the localities where closed schools may have to be reopened on a racially mixed basis.

Seaton Says

the House Insular Affairs Committee opened hearings in a new congressional drive to make Hawaii the 50th state.

He said the Eisenhower administration favors immediate passage of statehood legislation but recognizes that Congress must set its own schedule.

"The grant of statehood to Hawaii will prove to the world, and particularly to Asia—that we practice what we preach," Seaton said in prepared testimony.

"I say we need the participation of Hawaiians in our councils and their advice and experience in dealing with the peoples of the Orient."

He pointed out that Hawaii is the only incorporated territory now, and its 50-year apprenticeship in territorial status is longer than was required of any of the present states.

Long before annexation in 1898, he said, Hawaiians were thoroughly imbued with American ideals and American culture and the Americanization has continued at a rapid pace since incorporation.

He rejected arguments that Hawaii is susceptible to control by Communists.

Mayors Tell Need for Slum Clearance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania and the mayors of several cities urged Congress today to approve a 10-year, six-billion-dollar slum elimination — urban renewal program.

The governor sent a statement to the Senate Banking Committee and the mayors testified before it.

They urged rejection of the Eisenhower administration's six-year $1,350,000,000 program and endorsed a rival bill by Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) proposing a bigger and costlier program.

The officials rallied behind a slogan raised by Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland, their lead witness. He said the Eisenhower program is inadequate, while the Clark bill could make it possible to reach "the goal of slumless cities within one or two decades."

Mayor Louis C. Miriani of Detroit told the committee he agrees with Eisenhower that the nation needs more spending for defense and space flight projects. But, Miriani said, this should not mean "the detriment of domestic programs."

Mayor Richard Lee of New Haven, Conn., said the administration bill would provide 145 million dollars of actual cash outlay in 190 for urban renewal while, he estimated, the farm aid program would involve expenditures of six billion.

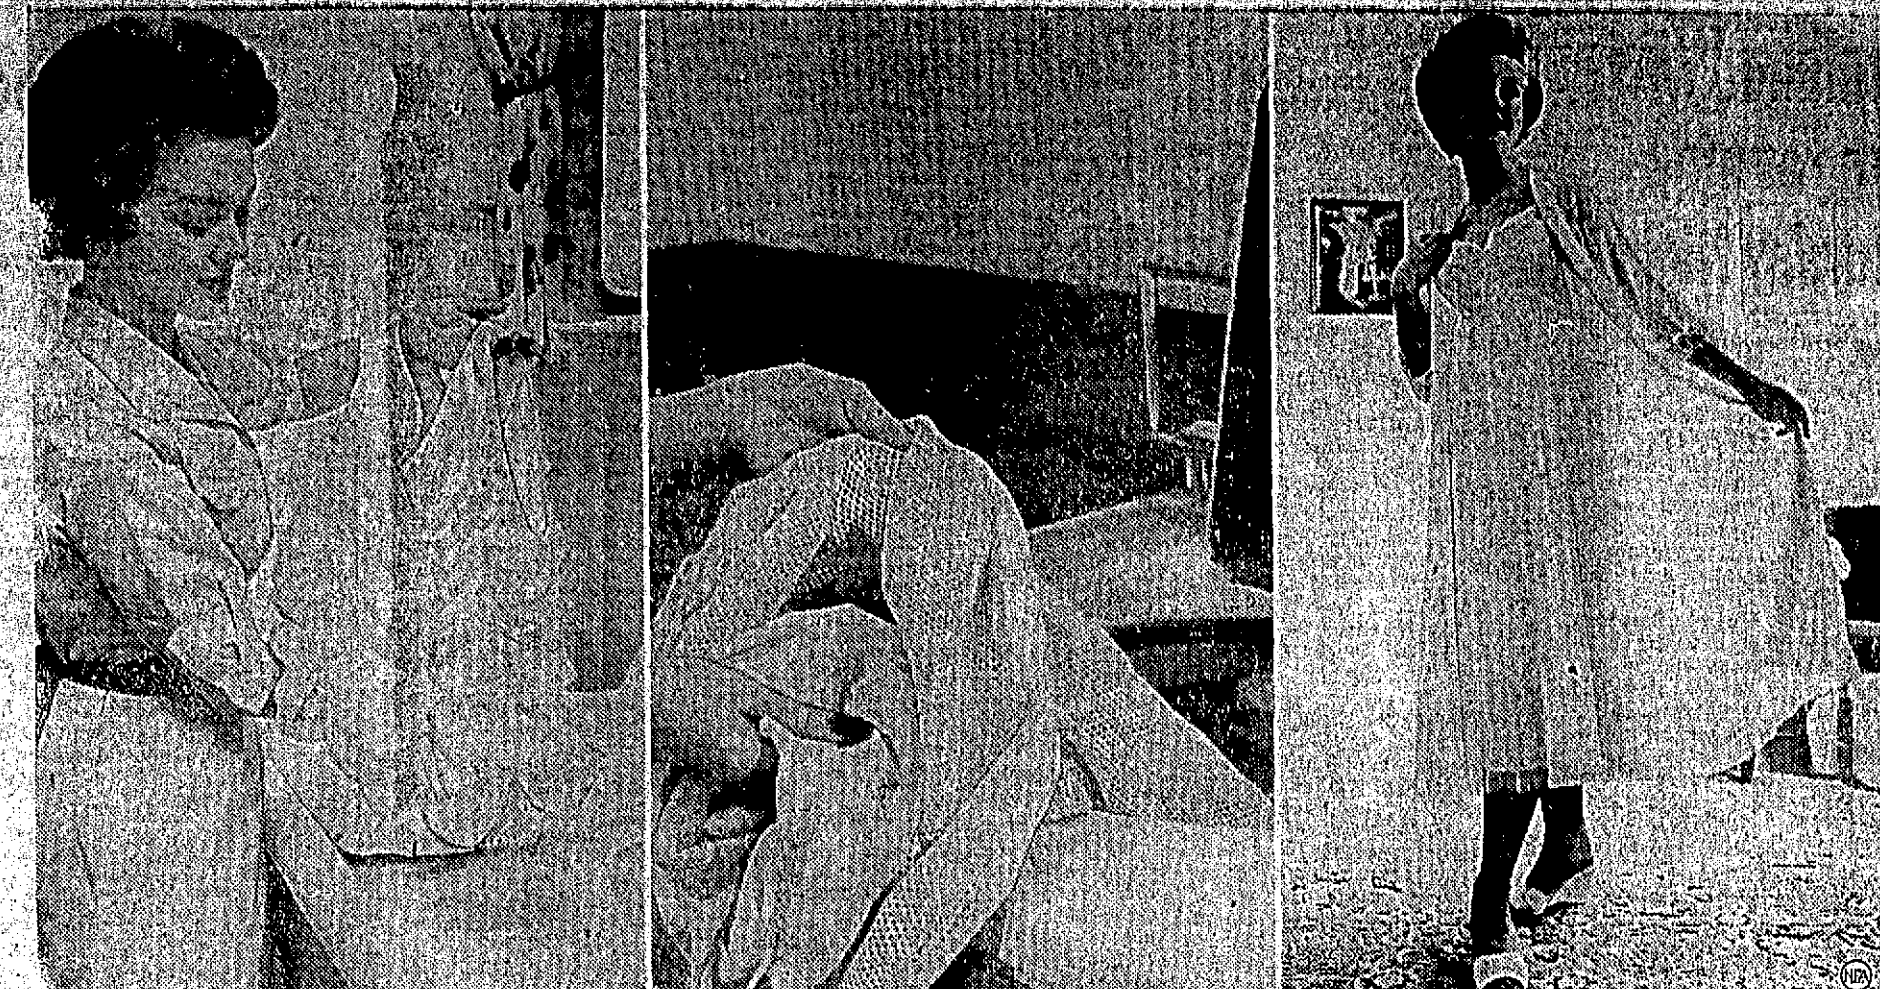

Mayor Morris Poulson of Los Angeles, a former Republican House member, told the committee the 600 million a year proposed by Clark "could be prudently employed."

Mayor James L. Maxwell of Tulsa, Okla., said it seems "singularly easy to be sympathetic about the challenge of urban renewal" but that the Clark bill approach should be enacted.

Poulson urged the committee not only to reject the Eisenhower proposal to push a bigger share of urban renewal costs onto local governments, but to go farther than Clark proposes. He called for a cut in the local share from one-third of costs to 20 per cent of costs. The administration wants cities ultimately to carry a two-thirds share.

Clark said witnesses to the holdup identified Scott from his picture as the killer.

Capt. Jack Donahoe of L. a Angeles police said Scott had a long record of arrests before being sent to San Quentin Prison from San Diego in 1954 and also had been a mental patient in the Fulton, Calif., state hospital.

Italian Cabinet of Fanfani Falls

By EUGENE LEVIN

ROME (AP)—Premier Amintore Fanfani's Cabinet resigned today because of a defection by a minority Moderate Socialist.

The pro-Western prime minister who heads the Christian Democrats handed his resignation and those of his 20 ministers to President Giovanni Gronchi.

In accordance with tradition, Gronchi did not accept the resignations at once. But he made clear he would, and asked the Fanfani Cabinet to continue in office only should be enacted.

Poulson urged the committee not only to reject the Eisenhower proposal to push a bigger share of urban renewal costs onto local governments, but to go farther than Clark proposes. He called for a cut in the local share from one-third of costs to 20 per cent of costs. The administration wants cities ultimately to carry a two-thirds share.

Facilities at Shumaker Are Inadequate

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has concluded that facilities of the Shumaker Naval Ammunition Depot, Camden, Ark., are not adequate to develop a proposed new million pound thrust rocket engine.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) had urged the agency to use the Camden facilities if possible in connection with a contract with the Rockwell Division of North American Aviation.

However, Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator for the agency, has written Fulbright that while the Camden facilities have value as a major production center for rockets "they are not adequate for the performance of the current rocketry work."

The rocketry proposal, Dryden said, contemplates use of government-built facilities at Canoga Park, Calif., with modification and expansion of existing rocket test facilities at the Edwards Air Force Rocket Base.

When the availability of a proven engine design is more certain, Dryden said questions then will arise as to production facilities.

"Whether the Shumaker facilities would be used for this purpose, as contrasted with other ordinance or commercial plants, would be conditioned by what other missile contracts are in effect at that time," he said.

Baylor Threat to Frogs in the SWC Race

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Staff Writer

The top six teams in the Southwest Conference basketball race clash this week in one big night of firing that could cause a lot of juggling among the front-runners.

Only Rice and Texas, the pasties of the league, are idle. Texas A&M, Texas Tech at Lubbock; Baylor hosts Arkansas at Waco; and Southern Methodist meets Texas Christian in Fort Worth, all Saturday.

TCU leads the league with a 4-1 conference mark. Baylor is half a game behind with 4-2 and Texas A&M and Texas Tech are tied for third at 3-2. Arkansas and SMU, defending co-champions, are next with 2-2 records.

Rice is 1-4 and Texas 1-5. TCU dropped a non-conference game in its only outing last week, but the tall and classy Horned Frogs may not have had their hearts in it when they lost to Oklahoma City 75-65. Arkansas also dropped a non-championship game, losing to Tulsa 61-54. Texas A&M beat Houston 71-64 in its game against outside foes.

Baylor slammed Texas 62-54 in the only conference game last week. The light schedule dropped TCU from first place in season play and let the Aggies in A&M is 12-3. TCU 11-4 and Texas Tech 10-5 for the year.

Texas, at the bottom of the heap with a 3-12 record, got the news that basketball coach Marshall Hughes is resigning at the end of the season. He said he will return to his first love, teaching.

Tom Robitaille of Rice held his season scoring lead with 28 points. H. E. Kirchner of TCU gained a bit on the idle Robitaille and has 268 for second place.

Bob Turner of Baylor, one of the big reasons behind the Bears' sudden surge in the conference race, leads the championship scorers with 7 points. Leon Hill of Texas Tech was idle this week and remained at 87 where he was tied with Turner last week. Kirchner has 86 points.

Carroll Dawson got 17 points for the Bears as they beat Texas and Jerry Walsh led in rebounds with nine. Jay Arnett paced Texas with 15 points.

Oklahoma City used a slashing fast break and a 49 per cent field goal shooting average to beat TCU. Troy Hill got 16 points and Bud Sahauant 14. Ron Stevenson, Kirchner and Ken Brunson all hit for 14 for TCU.

Bryan Schisley's free throw tied the regulation game at 58-58 but Archie Carroll got three straight baskets in leading the Aggies to an overtime victory over Houston. Roger Wendel of Tulsa got 18.

Attempts by Auburn and St. John's (N.Y.) to convince the skeptics and another milestone for Baron Adolph Rupp of Kentucky bear watching this week as basketball resumes in college basketball after time out for mid-term exams.

Auburn, ranked no better than fifth nationally despite a 24-game winning streak, plays pesky Vanderbilt Saturday at Nashville, where Vandy handed top-ranked Kentucky its only loss two weeks ago.

St. John's, now 12-1 with a nine-game streak and looking better with every start, opens a three-game road test Thursday against St. Louis, a team that has also bagged nine straight after two early losses. The Redmen, rated seventh in The Associated Press poll, move on to Chicago Stadium Saturday against Chicago Loyola and then try improved Notre Dame at South Bend early next week.

While these try to prove themselves, King Kentucky has three games to pick up the two victories Rupp needs for 800 in his 29-year career as head man of the Wildcats.

Kentucky goes for 599 at Georgia Tech tonight and has home games against Georgia Thursday night and Florida Saturday night.

The other seven members of the top 10 also are busy, with Kentucky (N.Y.) signaling the return of the Big Four which sat out last week to concentrate on examinations.

North Carolina, No. 2, and North Carolina State, No. 4, return in doubleheaders at Charlotte, N.C. Friday and Saturday. The Tarheels, 10-1 and leading the Atlantic Coast Conference by a game over State, play Clemson Friday and South Carolina Saturday in league tests. State, (12-1) points and Clyde Rhoden of Arkansas 15 as Tulsa took an early lead against the Razorbacks and held it.

NBA Coaches Complain of Officiating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The running feud between the coaches and referees of the National Basketball Assn. showed no signs of slackening today in the wake of another outburst before a television audience.

The latest argument was between Syracuse Nationals' pilot, Paul Seymour, and Referee Jim Duffy Sunday in Cincinnati. The Royals snapped a two-game losing streak by defeating the Nets 109-104, but when it was all over Seymour had been banished.

The dispute came in the third period. Duffy called a technical foul on Syracuse veteran, Dolph Schayes, who had been heckling the official all through the game.

This brought Seymour springing into the floor. Duffy added another personal and the trio stood on the court arguing. Finally the floor was cleared and Jack Twyman, who led the scorers with 33 points, made good on two free throws.

Maurice Podoloff, NBA president, watched the game but did not take part in the argument. In other Sunday games, the Boston Celtics edged the Detroit Pistons, 119-118 in overtime; the St. Louis Hawks clipped the New York Knicks 115-111, and the Philadelphia Warriors downed the Minneapolis Lakers, 125-111.

It was a costly defeat for the Pistons as George Yardley, their high scoring ace, suffered a broken hand and will be lost to the team, indefinitely.

The Celtics were led by Bob Cousy's 29 points in scoring their 14th victory in their last 17 games. The Hawks' victory lengthened their Western Division lead to 14 games. Richie Guerin popped in 41 points for the Knicks.

Paul Arizin, the NBA's No. 2 scorer netted 39 points to lead the Warriors to their victory over the Lakers. Elgin Baylor hit for 41 points for the Lakers.

In Saturday night's games Boston turned back Philadelphia, 132-104. Syracuse licked Cincinnati, 123-102, and New York outscored Detroit, 122-118 in overtime.

West Point Looking Over Coaching Field

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—The field for the Army football coaching job today apparently had narrowed to three men—all West Point graduates.

The three are Jack Green, Tulane line coach; Bobby Dobbs, head coach at Tulsa, and Dale Hall, Army defensive backfield coach.

Lt. Gen. Gar Davidson, superintendent of the academy, said the three would be interviewed this week.

Kansas State, No. 3, tries to protect its Big Eight Conference leadership against Iowa State tonight, and has a nonleague game with South Dakota State on Saturday. K-State has a 13-1 mark. Cincinnati, No. 6 and the Missouri Valley Conference leader, plays league foe Drake tonight and Wichita Saturday. Michigan State, eighth nationally and the Big Ten pacesetter, has a home date with Northwestern Saturday.

Bradley, No. 9, faces Detroit tonight and Toledo on Wednesday before resuming its chase of Cincinnati with Missouri Valley game against Tulsa Saturday.

West Virginia, rated 10th, goes after its 48th straight Southern Conference victory at Georgia Washington tonight and has another conference test with William & Mary Friday.

Matter of Fact

The island of Formosa, with a population of about seven million, lies 100 miles off the coast of southern China. It is 235 miles long and ranges from 70 to 90 miles in width. Along the eastern coast is a range of mountains over two miles high, with peaks of about 13,000 feet. The mountains rise abruptly from the Pacific shore, but slope gently to the west where a wide coastal plain runs along the straits.

TROUBADOR—Tiny crooner Basil Goulondris, son of a Greek shipping executive, holds the microphone lightly as he renders a ballad during a children's party in London. His number was "Bunny Bunny."

ATOMIC PEANUT—Dr. Walton C. Gregory, professor of genetics at North Carolina State College in Raleigh, is the first American to improve the strain of a living organism by nuclear radiation. He has developed an improved peanut, called N.C. 4X, by cross-breeding seeds previously exposed to large doses of X-rays. N.C. 4X has thicker hulls, fewer damaged kernels and fewer growth cracks than regular types.

WILD SUMMIT

THE STORY: The cattle combine headed by Meade Bastian and Duke Royale is getting worried about Gil Yeager. This once-peaceful man has suddenly become a thorn in the sides of the people who have driven small ranchers off the range.

CHAPTER XIII

Duke Royale smiled very thinly. "Then you're suggesting we bow our heads and get off Rubicon Creek?"

"You know better than that. And wipe that smile off your face! Just remember that while the black-eyed brother thinks he's the all-wise one of the two, the gray-eyed one feels just the other way about it. And—"

"Duke Royale swung a warning palm, spoke swift murmur.

"Easy, you hot-headed idiot—easy! Don't give the family history to the whole world. Somebody's out there!"

"Klint Hyatt came in. He looked at Meade Bastian.

"Ollie said you wanted to see me."

"Bastian nodded. "Pull up a chair, Duke. You got a couple more chairs."

"Duke Royale supplied the smokes. Bastian and Klint Hyatt lit up. Hyatt with a slow, guarded care.

"That fellow Yeager was out at our Rubicon Creek headquarters today," Bastian said.

"Yes!"

"Well, he manhandled Mitch Starker. Used a spur on him. Tore him up pretty bad."

"Klint Hyatt took his cigar from his lips, surveyed the tip of it. "That," he said, meagerly, "is what Starker gets for trying to use a spur on Yeager after Yeager finished with him."

"I saw no signs of such on Yeager," Bastian protested.

"Hyatt shrugged.

"Maybe you don't get what I mean," Bastian said. "I'm telling you that Yeager used Mitch Starker wicked enough to be arrested for."

"Thought you might be coming to that," Hyatt nodded. "Starkers not dead or dying, is he?"

"No, but—"

"Well, then," cut in Hyatt, "if you want Yeager arrested, you go before Judge Carmody, swear out a complaint and get the Judge to issue a warrant of arrest. You do that, I'll bring Yeager in. Otherwise I'm not interested."

"Bastian swung sharply away across the room, his eyes beginning to flare.

"Sounds like a lot of useless rigmarole to me. Don't tell me you have to go through all that before you can step out and arrest a man!"

"In this case I do," Hyatt said.

"But why?"

"Because that's the way I operate now, strictly legal in every respect. And I warn you that you'd better have a thoroughly sound and justifiable charge to lay before Judge Carmody, something a lot more substantial than one based on the fact that a bucko boy like Mitch Starker took a physical going over which he's long been asking for. Otherwise, you'll probably bump into an official call-down you'll date time from."

Again Bastian stopped in front of Hyatt.

"Sounds almost like you might be going proud on us, Hyatt. Why a year ago?"

"Past history," Hyatt cut in. "A thoroughly venal man, Elias Blackmur, was sitting on the bench then. Today he stands discredited, suspended under Territorial Court order, waiting trial and prosecution for collusion and a lot of other things. Between him and a man like Judge Carmody, there is no slightest judicial resemblance."

The tight line of Bastian's lips twisted. "It's like I figured. You're going proud and noble on us."

"No," said Hyatt. "Not proud or noble; I'm just being realistic. And perhaps making it a little easier to live with myself."

"You're wanting to be 'stilled, maybe?" The tone was still casual, but the pressure and the threat had deepened.

"No," said Hyatt. "Not wanting to be, and I won't be."

Behind the casual manner Duke Royale presented outwardly, an inner impatience had been mounting. Now he threw contemptuous words at Klint Hyatt.

"You'll stay in office only so long as Meade and I want you in there. You'll wear that star only so long as you remember who your friends are — and act accordingly. The day you forget to do that, Hyatt, you'll be kicked out like an other dog that turns against a master!"

Turgid color darkened Klint Hyatt's face. As he stared at Royale, his eyes pinched to mere slits. He rose slowly to his feet, and of a sudden was a far harder, tougher man than when he'd first entered this room. His voice ran flat-harsh.

"Royale, you just put your foot in your mouth. What you said decides things for me, makes up my mind. Now I've always believed in practical politics, and I've played those of my office right up to the hilt. Because I've been around long enough to know that sort of thing is more or less necessary if a man wants to hold on to his star — which I do. At the same time, while I've been willing to bend a little, this way or that as conditions or circumstances seemed to warrant, any man who tries taking a club to me, makes a mistake. And you just did, Royale. You just made a bad mistake."

Hyatt stepped over to the door, then went out.

Here plainly was a man cocked and ready and full of a deadly danger.

Pope to Seek Unity of World Christians

By STAN CARTER

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII will convoke a great assembly — the 21st, Ecumenical Council in the 2,000-year history of the Roman Catholic Church — to seek unity of the Christian forces of the world.

Return to the fold of the Eastern Orthodox Church's 129 million members was seen as a prime object of the conclave. But there are great obstacles to any formal reunification, particularly the Roman Catholic dogma that the Pope is supreme and infallible in matters of faith and morals.

Reaffirmation of the church's stand against communism may be another, major, subject of the Ecumenical Council, the first since 1870. Pope John already has expressed grave concern with the plight of Catholics in Communist lands and particularly in Communist China, where the Red regime has been trying to foster a national Catholic Church that denies allegiance to Rome.

The council will bring together Roman Catholic cardinals, archbishops and bishops from all over the world in what may well be the most immense gathering in Christian history. More than 2,500 are eligible to attend.

Representatives of other Christian communities, in addition to Roman Catholics, are likely to be invited to attend.

The 77-year-old pontiff announced his intention to convene the council Sunday after a mass in honor of the conversion of St. Paul the Roman Jew and persecutor of Christians who was struck to the ground on his way to Damascus.

The Pope did not announce a date for the council. Because of the gathering's great size and possibly long duration, the preparation may take many months.

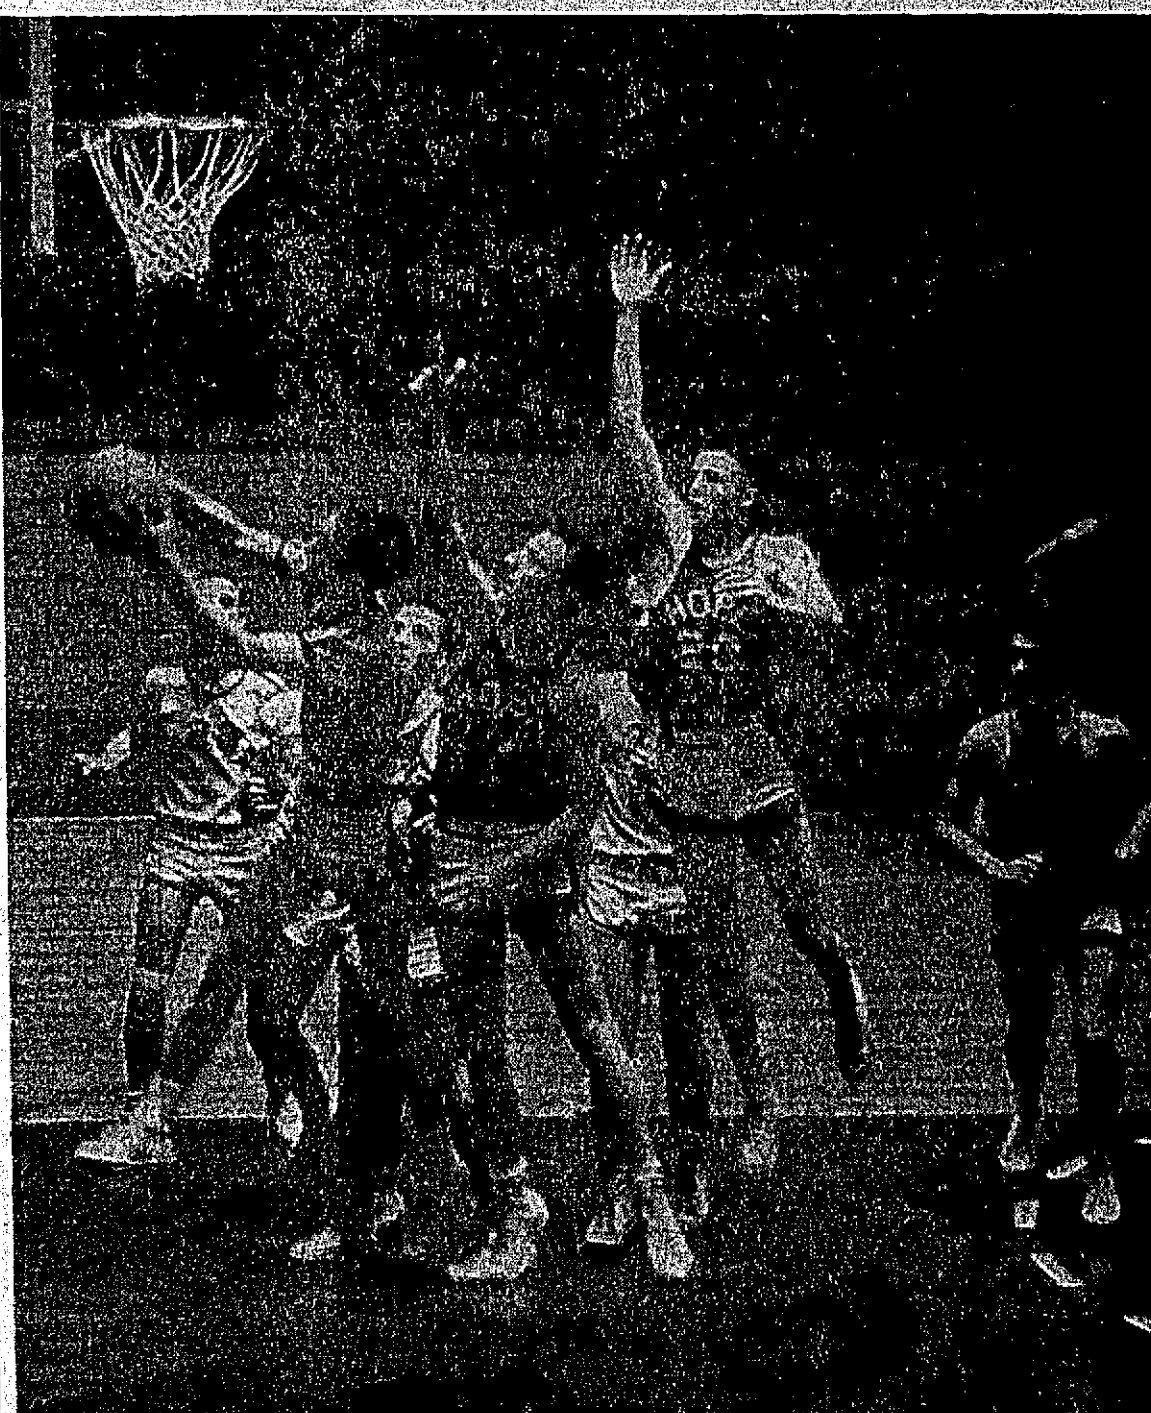

Ecumenical means worldwide, representing the whole church. The 20 previous Ecumenical Councils were called to deal with major problems facing the church, such as heresy and schism, to resolve questions of faith or to establish dogma.

Unlike the Protestants, the Eastern church parted from Rome 900 years ago in a dispute over matters of discipline. The Vatican considers the Eastern Orthodox schismatic but still Catholics, retaining the apostolic tradition and the regular administration of the Sacraments.

The majority of the Eastern Orthodox practitioners live in Communist-controlled countries of East Europe. There are about 2 1/2 million in the United States.

It also was thought that Protestant churches would be invited to send representatives, at least observers. But it was considered certain that the Roman church, in any consideration of union with the Protestants, would insist on supremacy of the papacy. This has always been one of the great obstacles to Christian reunification.

This was underlined by one of the Eastern Orthodox prelates — Metropolitan Anthony Bashir, archbishop of the Syrian Antiochian archdiocese in New York. He

McHale Takes Over Braves as Manager

MILWAUKEE (AP)—John McHale of the Detroit Tigers—one of the youngest top executives in baseball—will take over the general management for the Milwaukee Braves.

McHale, 37, announced his surprise decision Sunday after meeting with Braves' owner Lou Perini and Executive Vice President Birdie Tebbetts.

"It definitely is a case of the job seeking the man and not the man seeking the job," Perini said.

McHale, in leaving the American League club where he was named general manager early in 1957, replaces John Quinn, who resigned to accept a similar position with the Philadelphia Phil-

"McHale was at the top of our list of candidates for the general manager's job," Tebbetts said. "When Quinn resigned we knew that we had to replace him with a top man. We looked around and decided that McHale was our man."

"I see it as a bigger job — a chance to expand myself and also to make more money," McHale said.

McHale earned an estimated $30,000 with Detroit. Tebbetts said McHale would work for the Braves without a contract. There was no hint of McHale's salary.

Tebbetts added that McHale would have all the duties that Quinn had and would also be responsible for player trades and contracts.

McHale spent 18 years with the Tigers. He started in professional baseball with Beaumont in the Texas League in 1941. He had his best season with Buffalo in 1945 when he hit .312 and collected 22
